Shelene Crawley is currently lining up her next target. Are you going to permit her to get away with this scheme endlessly?

Testimony & evidence is being published here: <https://pfi.rocks/organized-crime/vis/shelene-crawley>; however, as I was robbed of my final few dollars, my priority is seeking a homeless shelter.

“... you should avail of a lawyer ...”: what utter nonsense.

Again, to whom do you report?

It's not “civil in nature”: de-frauding someone is a crime & stealing is a crime. Your outfit is just as protective of organized crime as Ottawa Police Services (see <https://pfi.rocks/the-darkumentary>).

Obstructing justice, Parties to Offense are crimes: <https://pfi.rocks/organized-crime/vis/glenn-cunningham>

Trafficking persons through every branch of court in attempt to seek justice is also a crime: one of which RNC is now also guilty.

Kindly provide the name of the person to whom you report.

Thank you

Deirdre :

This matter as reported is civil in nature, and you should avail of a lawyer to initiate an appropriate litigation. Any agreement between person's in which one defaults on the commitment is a breach of a contract. A lawyer will be able to intercede on your behalf to allow you to obtain redress relating to outstanding monies associated to the transaction or contract.

The following is the telephone number for the NL Legal Aid Commission if you can't afford to hire one. The number is 709-729-2608 . If you can afford one, there are many law firms in your area that would be happy to work with you regarding this .

The number for the Landlord Tenancies Board in St. John's is 709-729-2608 if this is indeed is a matter that has occurred within NL concerning the withheld office equipment.

The withholding of a tenant's property is a matter to be decided by the applicable Tenancies Board. They are pretty much the same in all Provinces and will be able to assist you in getting your property returned to your possession.

Best of luck to you in this regard.

Sincerely ,
